

Crawford W. Long

M U S E U M

Jefferson, Georgia

Birthplace of Anesthesia

- Discover the site of “America’s Greatest Contribution to Medicine.”
- Explore the achievements, life, and times of Crawford W. Long, the Georgia physician who performed the first surgery using general anesthesia.
- Experience the permanent exhibition which tells the story of the first painless operation using sulfuric ether on March 30, 1842.
- Trace the development of anesthesia from 1842 to advanced modern operating technology.
- Absorb the charm of a mid- 1800’s general store reflecting the past culture of Jackson County.

Crawford W. Long Museum in downtown Jefferson, Georgia

Hours

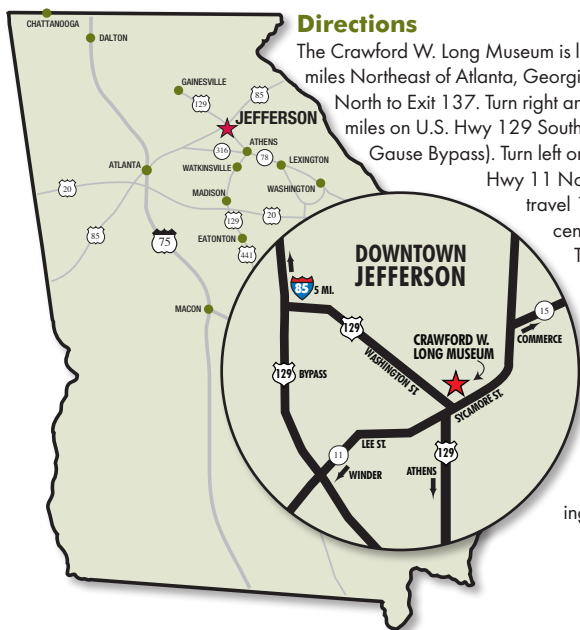

Tuesday-Saturday, 10 am - 5 pm. Closed Sunday-Monday & government holidays.

Admission

Call for admission prices or check our website at www.crawfordlong.org

Programs

Guided tours, lecture series, historical demonstrations, special events, and history camps.

Directions

The Crawford W. Long Museum is located 60 miles Northeast of Atlanta, Georgia. Take I-85 North to Exit 137. Turn right and travel 5 miles on U.S. Hwy 129 South (Damon Gause Bypass). Turn left onto Georgia

Hwy 11 North and travel 1.6 miles to the center of town.

The Crawford W. Long Museum is on the east side of the Square. Look for the large white Greek Revival building on the left.

Crawford W. Long
MUSEUM

28 College St. • Jefferson, GA 30549 • 706.367.5307
info@crawfordlong.org • www.crawfordlong.org