COTTAGE ACCOMMODATIONS

Crane and Cherokee are two Historic District cottages immediately adjacent to the main Hotel. As outstanding guest accommodations, both offer the Jekyll Island Club Hotel's traditions of historic ambiance and service and are ideal settings for group functions such as weddings, family reunions, corporate retreats and special events.

Crane Cottage

Built in 1917, Crane Cottage was considered the most expensive and elegant winter home ever built on Jekyll Island. Today, its classic Italianate design offers 13 guest rooms and suites joined by lush gardens, alfresco courtyard dining and intimate meeting spaces.

Cherokee

Cherokee takes its name from the Cherokee Rose, Georgia's state flower, that originally surrounded this stately residence. The sense here, as was intended at its construction in 1904, is that of a private villa. Within its charming interiors are 10 guest rooms along with unique meeting space.

JEKYLL ISLAND CLUB HOTEL

The legacy of the original Jekyll Island Club is one of history and hospitality. Founded in 1886, the Club was once a private hunting club and a winter retreat for America's wealthiest families, with such members as Morgan, Rockefeller, Pulitzer and Vanderbilt.

At the Jekyll Island Club Hotel, it's now your turn.

The Victorian clubhouse with its famed turret, along with a collection of adjacent structures, has been splendidly restored as the centerpiece of Jekyll Island's renowned National Historic Landmark District. The perfect balance of premier guest amenities, rich history and gracious service has made the Jekyll Island Club Hotel a celebrated and award-winning resort for 25 years. Located on one of Georgia's most beautiful coastal barrier islands-acclaimed for its beaches, recreation and spectacular natural beauty-awaits a truly landmark experience.
