Northwest Georgia's
*Land of Sights
&
Legends*

Rustic Settings

Mountain towns and Main Street Cities, legendary attractions, luxurious resorts, charming B&Bs, waterside cottages and cabins, the adventure sites of the Chattahoochee National Forest, Civil War battlefields and prehistoric American Indian dwellings, southern farms, grist mills and covered bridges await your visit to "The Enchanted Land," so named by the Cherokee Indians.

Patchwork Stories

From the oral histories of early Native tribes to the creation of the Cherokee alphabet, this region of Georgia inspired many colorful stories. The journals of early pioneers and Civil War soldiers combined with individual life histories tell of a history unique to northwest Georgia. A visit here will introduce you to industrious women, writers, film stars, musicians and artists.

Timeless Seasons

Winters mild, kissed with frost and the occasional snowflake. Springtime sparkling with dew-dampened blossoms and wildlife renewed. Summers green with sheltering shade. Autumn colors as bright and vivid as the patches of Grandmother's quilt. Northwest Georgia is the perfect setting to make legendary memories in any season.

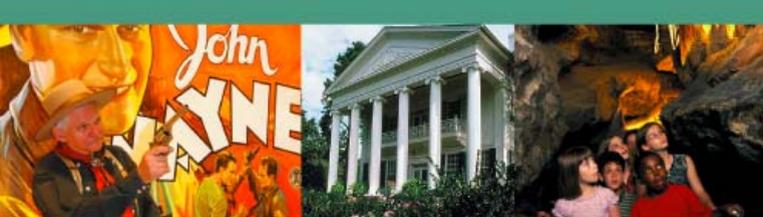

Close to Home

In less than two hours from Atlanta, Birmingham and Chattanooga, you could begin your memorable getaway: relax by the fire, have Tea on an antique square, raft thrilling rapids, walk in historic footsteps, climb pristine mountains, shop designer sales, pick apples and drink fresh dairy milk, dine on world-class cuisine, resort to luxury, tee off on a championship course, ride a roller coaster or antique carousel, see seven states – all close to home. Convenient regional access via I-75, I-20 and US 27 and US 41.

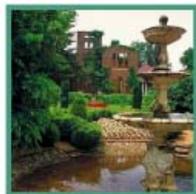

Mission Statement - The Historic High Country Travel Association is a volunteer membership organization, the mission of which is economic development in the 17-county northwest Georgia region through tourism marketing and promotion of its members. Serving Bartow, Carroll, Catoosa, Chattooga, Cherokee, Dade, Fannin, Floyd, Gilmer, Gordon, Haralson, Murray, Pickens, Paulding, Polk, Walker and Whitfield Counties.

Hiking & Multi-purpose Trails

Appalachian Trail – A public footpath across 2,155 miles of Appalachian Mountain from Katahdin, Maine to Springer Mountain. A vision of regional planner Benton MacKaye, this trail winds through scenic wooded lands offering a treat for many wishing to escape urban life. Primarily used for day hikes, nature enthusiasts have been known to pack the entire route. 304-535-6331.
www.appalachiantrail.org

Pinhoti Trail – This multistate, multipurpose trail connects Alabama to the west with the southern terminus of the Appalachian Trail at Springer Mountain. This route uses the Benton MacKaye Trail to connect to the Appalachian Trail. Forest trails, woods roads, county roads, and limited segments of highways comprise these trails. Much of the Pinhoti Trail (outside the Armuchee Ranger District of the Chattahoochee National Forest) is still under development. Road walks do not currently have Pinhoti Trail marking since the route along roads is considered interim.

www.georgiapinhoti.org.

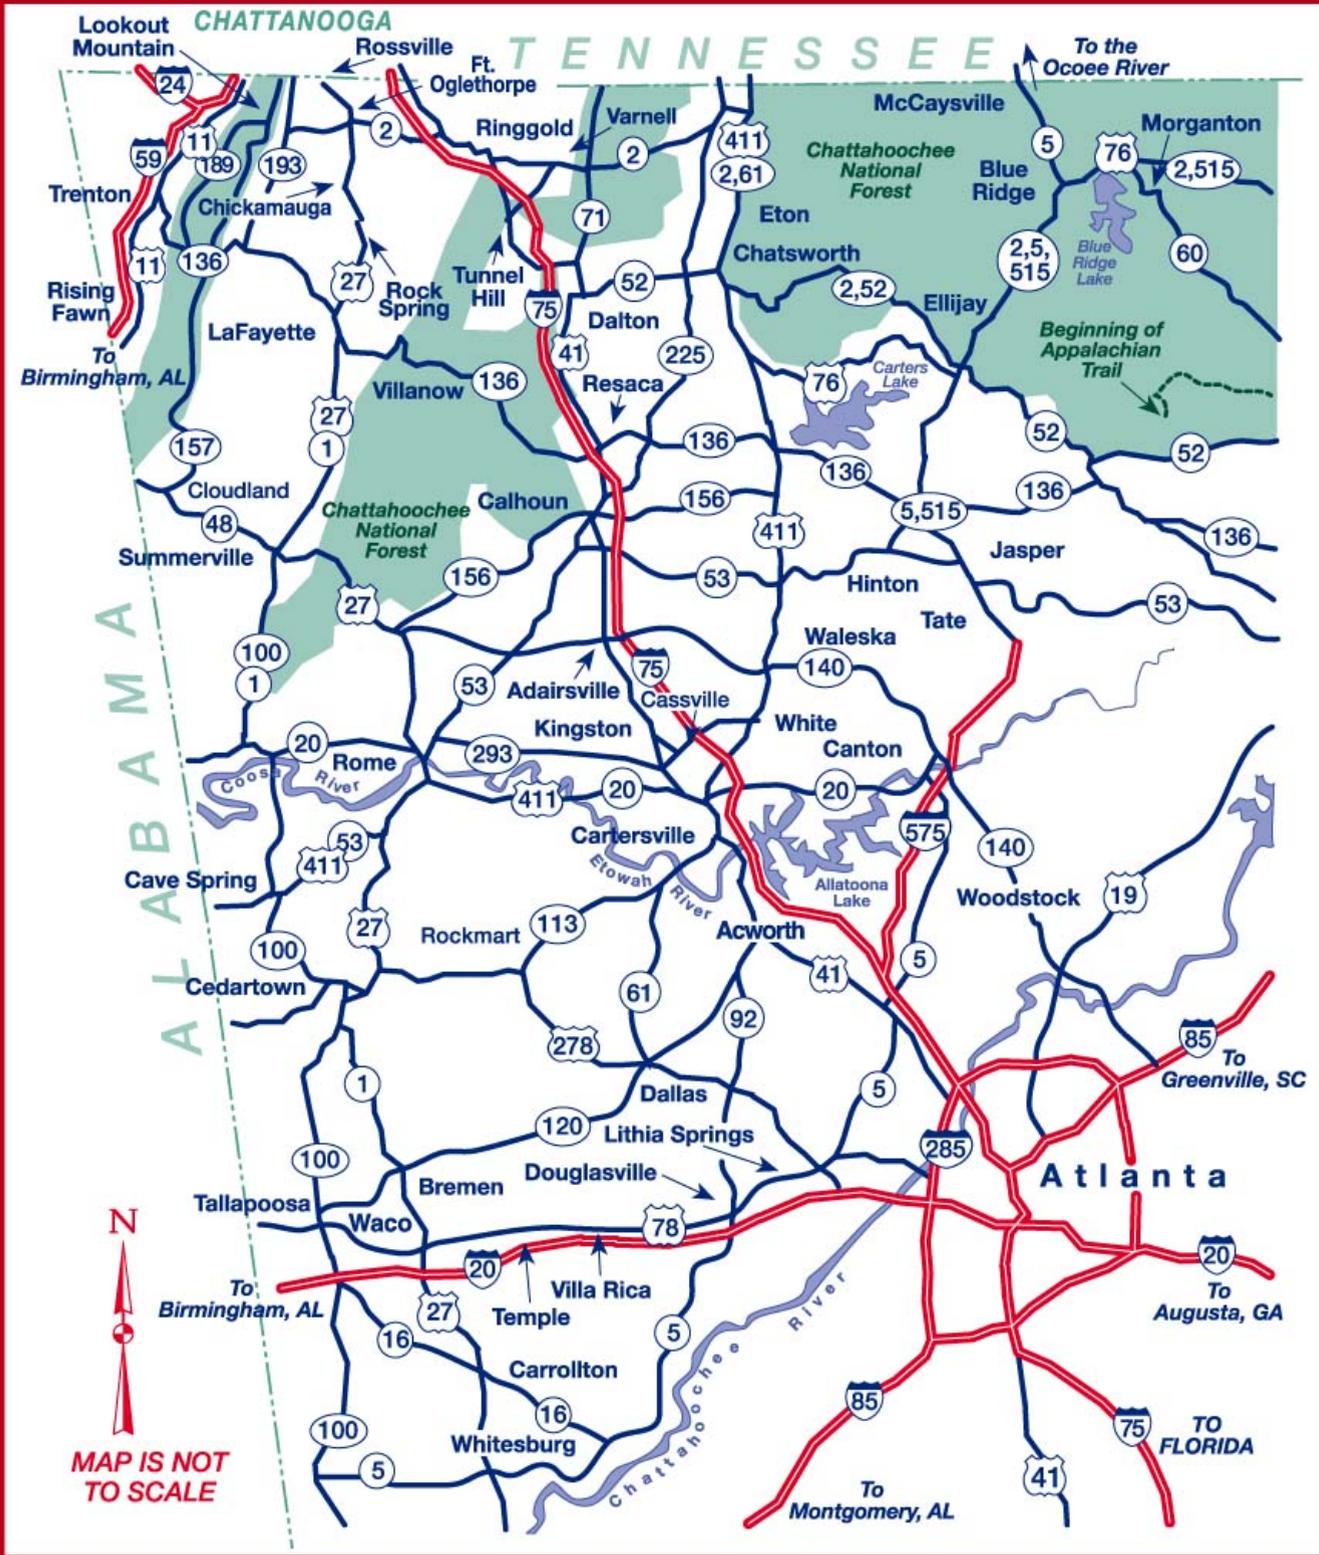

Silver Comet Trail – Imagine gliding along on your bike through the north Georgia countryside, crossing a 500-foot-long trestle over a rushing river below, winding between rock cliffs and weaving among tall stately pines. The 60 miles of the Silver Comet Trail in Georgia is closed to motor vehicles. The trail begins near the intersection of Mt. Paran Road and Northside Parkway in Cobb County, and runs west through Rockmart and Cedartown to the Alabama border. From there, it will join the Chief Ladiga trail being built in Alabama, providing a 101-mile trail that will run from Atlanta to Anniston, Alabama! www.pathfoundation.org
