

At ASW Distillery, we make only things we like to drink using a method wholly unique to modern whiskey production: combining traditional, Scottish-style copper pot stills with the Appalachian innovation of grain-in distillation.

We've long held that much remains uncharted in the world of whiskey and our tasting room is shelves provide a testament to this fact. With more than 15 years' experience as our guide, we've pioneered a host of world-class spirits for your sipping pleasure:

- >> The World's 1st High-Wheat + High-Malt Bourbon (Fiddler Unison Bourbon)
- >> The World's 1st Whiskey Finished on Georgia Oak (Fiddler Georgia Heartwood Bourbon)
- >> The World's 1st Double Malt Distilled from Two Distinct Malted Grains (Duality Double Malt)
- >> The World's 1st Quadruple Malt (The Crossing Quadruple Malt)
- >> One of the World's Only Ryes Distilled from 100% Malted Rye (Resurgens Rye)
- >> One of the World's 1st Whiskeys with Full Transparency into Production Methods (Armeireagmach Single Malt Whiskey)
- >> Georgia's 1st Legal Apple Brandy made from Georgia apples (Armour & Oak Apple Brandy)

In this whiskey expedition of ours, we support fellow pioneers wherever we can, using local Georgia corn, apples, and oak as often as our methods allow. What we can't source locally, we do as much in-house as possible -- everything from our label design to milling our bourbon's smoked malts on-site. All from a team no larger than the number of Wonders in the World, a team that lives, dreams, and breathes whiskey. (And, after lunch, fire. We're hot sauce enthusiasts, after all.)

To distill spirits is to enjoy the privilege of continuing a tradition born in the Middle Ages and perfected tirelessly throughout the centuries by monks, moonshiners, and master distillers. Yet much is left to be discovered. We'll stop at nothing less than exploring the uncharted waters remaining in this timeless craft of whiskey distillation. We hope that you'll share our journey with us, and recruit friends to join as well. To do so is to support local, innovative, handcrafted, Southern spirits.

Thank you very much for your support.
