

Meet Me Downtown

DOWNTOWN DALTON
DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY

LIVE PLAY DINE SHOP WORK

Welcome

. . . to Downtown Dalton – the heart and soul of the City of Dalton and Whitfield County, Georgia. This historic and picturesque downtown district has been a national Main Street City since 1985 and is managed by the Downtown Dalton Development Authority (DDDA). An eclectic and impressive array of one-of-a-kind shops and dining cuisines, attractions from the Civil War era, and the region's leading professional businesses and financial institutions offer the perfect setting to play, learn, work, and live.

Whether you seek that perfect gift for someone special, a unique furnishing to enhance your home, an evening at the theater, or a great dining experience . . .

Seek the Unique In Downtown Dalton.

From architecture to dining establishments, Downtown Dalton is known for its eclectic and one-of-a-kind shops, restaurants and businesses. The Wink Theater, built in 1941, is one of the city's best-known and beloved landmarks.

Putting feet in the street

Located along I-75 in northwest Georgia, just 30 miles south of Chattanooga, TN and 90 miles north of Atlanta is historic, quaint and thriving Downtown Dalton. Founded in 1847, Downtown Dalton is where the charm of the past meets the convenience of today and the innovation of tomorrow.

Downtown Dalton features a number of picturesque streets, an historic train depot, a thriving theater scene and a number of fascinating historical sites.

A Main Street City

While striving to meet the changes of a modern world, history and tradition will always remain an important part of our community. In 1985, Downtown Dalton was named by the National Trust for Historic Preservation as a Main Street City.

DALTON YESTERDAY

History plays a pivotal role in Downtown Dalton. With a heritage steeped in the lore of the Cherokee Indians and shaped by the Civil War, the locomotive, and the tufting industry, Dalton provides a unique historical look at the way life was, is and can be. Train aficionados can still view and photograph one of the nation's oldest train depots and the convergence of two rail lines right in downtown Dalton. Dalton also features a number of historic buildings dating back to the Civil War and the only statue of Confederate General Joseph Johnston.

DALTON TOMORROW

While a noted historic city, Dalton also offers some of the most advanced technology infrastructure in Georgia. New businesses, from restaurants to professional offices to specialty stores are moving to Downtown to take advantage of the charming surroundings, ideal location and many business benefits offered by the area. Efforts to help continue Downtown Dalton's revitalization are spearheaded by a broad base of community leaders, dedicated citizens and the Downtown Dalton Development Authority (DDDA). The DDDA also provides programs to help shop owners and service professionals succeed in their business.

DALTON TODAY

Today, Downtown Dalton features quaint, historic buildings that are thriving with activity. Popular family events dot the calendar year round, including:

- Arts & Crafts Exhibits
- Farmers Market
- Historic Tours and Sites
- Seasonal Parades
- Culinary Festivals
- Cycling Events
- Run/ Walk Activities

SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE

Whether you are visiting for a taste of Northwest Georgia culture, or for an incredible deal on carpet or shopping, the perfect way to complete your visit is a trip to Downtown Dalton. Virtually everything you need or want is just around the corner. In fact, within ten square blocks you'll find . . .

- Unique boutiques
- Antique shops
- Specialty gift and gourmet shops
- Restaurants & cafés
- Theater, the arts and entertainment
- Walking trails

What's more, on the practical side, you can find every service imaginable from dry cleaners and high-end salons to attorneys and CPAs.

Whether you are visiting our area for a great deal on carpet or furniture, to explore one of a kind specialty shops, enjoy an exceptional meal or visit a historic site, Downtown Dalton is easily accessible from virtually anywhere in the Southeast. You will find it 2 miles east of I-75, 30 miles south of Chattanooga and 90 miles north of Atlanta. Look for the directional signs to historic Downtown Dalton.
