— MEET YOUR TOUR MANAGERS —

Macon native Jessica Walden was raised in the shadows of rhythm and blues and the after-shocks of southern rock as the daughter of Alan Walden, retired music industry executive and 2003 Georgia Music Hall of Fame Inductee. She shares her life and love of Macon with her husband Jamie Weatherford, a local candy manufacturer and bona fide music fan. Through family stories and historic research, they created Rock Candy Tours with the hopes to honor, preserve, protect and downright show off some of the most fascinating and colorful historic sites of the South. You can't make these places up!
