

*Step back in time at The Jewell Box, a Victorian era tea room located in charming Jewell, GA, nestled in the country along the Scenic Byway, Civil War Heritage Trail and the Ogeechee River. Delight yourself in shopping the fully restored 1870's mercantile store with its wide array of antiques, vintage collectibles and local historical memorabilia. You may indulge your sweet tooth with made-from-scratch fudge, award-winning White Chocolate Cranberry Scones served with our very own version of Southern clotted cream, homemade jams and other scrumptious bakery delights. Choose a savoring cup of coffee or enjoy the bygone past time of a cup of tea from the specially selected assortment of teas. A specialty of the house is its signature black tea, '3' Jewells, created with a aromatic blend of sunflower, jasmine and rose petals. The Jewell Box is available for Afternoon Teas (by appt.) with the girls. The owner, Denise Coard, will create that special occasion with just the right touch of lace, china and chintz to create a lasting memory. # Facts about tea:

there are 4 → main types of tea:

- ⊕ white
- ⊕ green
- ⊕ oolong
- ⊕ black

but depending on the influence of culture, these 4 types can turn into thousands of varieties!!

tea is the second most consumed beverage in the world, the first being (water) of course.

tea can help decrease your appetite.

tea can also fight cavities!!

GLOBAL TEA ETIQUETTE

Before you sip maté and genmai cha with the locals, make sure you know the intricate rules of the game. By Nikki Goldstein

JAPAN
While it is not offensive to add milk and sugar to your tea, you should taste it in its purest form before doing so.

ENGLAND
After stirring, place your spoon on the saucer behind the cup, its handle pointing the same way as the cup's.

ARGENTINA
Don't use the straw (called a bombilla) to stir maté—the leaves floating on top should stay dry.

MOROCCO
When drinking tea with a shopkeeper, don't talk prices—or business of any kind—until the glasses are emptied.

CHINA
Express thanks to your server by tapping your index and middle fingers lightly on the table twice.

INDIA
It is considered polite to decline an offer of tea, at first. Accept only after letting your host insist.
